Arrears	For the purposes of the Asset Coverage Test, arrears are calculated in accordance with standard market practices in the UK. A mortgage is identified as being in arrears when, on any due date, the overdue amounts which were due on previous due dates equal, in the aggregate calculated in accordance with standard market practices in the UK. A mortgage is identified as being in arrears when, on any due date, the overdue amounts which were due on previous due dates expension the difference of all monthy payments. In making an arrears determination, the service calculated as of the aggregate amount of all authorities that were due and payments in a previous due dates expension the difference of all monthy payments that were due and payments actually made by that borrower up to that date of determination. If the result arrived at by dividing that difference (if any) by the amount of the required current monthy payments equals or exceeds 1 the account is determined based on the number of equivalent full current monthy payments that were due on payments. A corrower that has missed payments that in the aggregate equal or exceeding 2 monthy payments (but for which the aggregate of missed payments) would be classified as being 2 to <3 months in arrears, and so on. An account is treated as being in default if it is 3 or more months in arrears. For the purposes of Investor Reporting, if unpaid at the end of the reporting period, the due amounts which were due on the latest due date are included in the aggregate equal or exceeding 2 months in arrears.
