Recurring transactions explained

A recurring transaction is a regular payment (other than a Direct Debit or standing order) collected from your credit card account by a supplier of goods or services (such as a magazine subscription) in line with your instructions. The Direct Debit Guarantee does not cover recurring transactions.

If you have authorised a recurring transaction, the person being paid may continue to take payments from your credit card account until you tell them or us to cancel it. You may withdraw your consent to a recurring transaction at any time. The latest point at which you can cancel your authorisation with us is the end of the working day<sup>1</sup> before the recurring transaction is due to be paid.
