Your personal data is data which by itself or with other data available to Santander can be used to identify you. Santander UK plc and Santander Insurance Services UK Ltd (collectively known as Santander and referred to as 'we/us/our' in this Data Protection Statement) are data controllers for the uses of your personal data. The types of personal data we collect and use

Whether or not you become a customer, Santander will use your personal data for the reasons set out below. Santander will receive information from Aviva Insurance Limited (the insurer) for administration purposes which shall enable us to form a view of you as a customer. - Personal data (including any special categories of personal data) about other named applicants and other people living at the address being insured. You must have their authority to provide their personal data to us and share this Data Protection Statement with them beforehand together with details of what you've agreed on their behalf; and
- Personal data about your health and convictions.

Providing your personal data

Santander will tell you if providing some personal data is optional, including if we ask for your consent to process it. In all other cases you must provide your personal data so we can process your application (unless you're a customer and we already hold your details).

Monitoring of communications

Subject to applicable laws, Santander will monitor and record your calls, emails, text messages, social media messages and other communications in relation to your dealings with us. We'll do this for regulatory compliance, self-regulatory practices, crime prevention and detection, to protect the security of our communications systems and procedures, to check for obscene or profane content, for quality control and staff training, and when we need to see a record of what's been said. We may also monitor activities on your account where necessary for these reasons and this is justified by our legitimate interests or our legal obligations.

Using your personal data: the legal basis and purposes

Santander will process your personal data:

 - d) To manage and perform insurance mediation activities;
 - e) To update our records; and
 - f) To trace your whereabouts to contact you about your account or policy and recovering debt where you owe a debt to Santander.

- b) When we process any special categories of personal data about you at your request (e.g. your racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, genetic data, biometric data, data concerning your health, sex life or sexual orientation); and
- c) To send you marketing communications where we've asked for your consent to do so.

You're free at any time to change your mind and withdraw your consent. The consequence might be that we can't do certain things for you.

Sharing of your personal data

Subject to applicable data protection law Santander may share your personal data with:

- The Santander group of companies* and associated companies in which we have shareholdings;
- Sub-contractors and other persons who help us provide our products and services;
- Insurers and reinsurers in connection with insurance administration;
- Companies and other persons providing services to us;
- Our legal and other professional advisors, including our auditors;
- Fraud prevention agencies and associated industry fraud databases, credit reference agencies, and debt collection agencies (where you owe a debt to Santander) when we open your account and periodically during your account or service management. If you have Santander insurance then we will do this to carry out and manage your insurance policy or contract;
- Other organisations who use shared databases for income verification and affordability checks and to manage/collect arrears;
- Government bodies and agencies in the UK and overseas (e.g. HMRC who may in turn share it with relevant overseas tax authorities and with regulators (e.g. the Prudential Regulation Authority, the Financial Conduct Authority, the Information Commissioner's Office));

- Courts, to comply with legal requirements, and for the administration of justice;
- In an emergency or to otherwise protect your vital interests;
- To protect the security or integrity of our business operations;
- To other parties connected with your account and/or policy e.g. guarantors and other people named on the application and/or policy including joint account holders and/or policy holders who will see your transactions;
- When we restructure or sell our business or its assets or have a merger or re-organisation;
- Market research organisations who help to improve our products or services; and
- Anyone else where we have your consent or as required by law.

Premium calculation

If you apply for a home insurance product, as part of the calculation of your premiums on application and at renewal, you understand that the insurer or its agents will check your details against publicly available information (such as electoral roll, county court judgements, bankruptcy orders or repossessions). Similar checks may also be made in assessing any claims you make. The searches made by the insurer will appear on your credit report whether or not your application proceeds. The searches will be available to other organisations that search your file for insurance purposes but they will not affect your ability to get credit. We share information with insurers through various databases to help us check information and prevent fraud.

We may use information you supply to assess your application. This includes details of any convictions relating to you or other people you are applying with. You confirm that you have the permission of anyone else involved in the application to release their personal data.

International transfers

Your personal data may be transferred outside the UK and the European Economic Area. While some countries have adequate protections for personal data under applicable laws, in other countries steps will be necessary to ensure appropriate safeguards apply to it. These include imposing contractual obligations of adequacy or requiring the recipient to subscribe or be certified with an 'international framework' of protection. Further details can be found in the 'Using My Personal Data' booklet.

Identity verification and fraud prevention checks

The personal data we've collected from you at application or at any stage will be shared with fraud prevention agencies who will use it to prevent fraud and money laundering and to verify your identity. If fraud is detected, you could be refused certain services, finance or employment in future. We may also search and use our internal records for these purposes. Further details on how your personal data will be used by us and these fraud prevention agencies, and your data protection rights, can be found in the 'Using My Personal Data' booklet.

Your marketing preferences and related searches

Santander will use your home address, phone numbers, email and social media (e.g. Facebook, Google and message facilities in other platforms) to contact you according to your preferences. You can change your preferences or unsubscribe at any time by contacting us. In the case of social media messages you can manage your social media preferences via that social media platform. If you're over 18, we may search the files at credit reference agencies before sending marketing communications or doing marketing in-branch to you about credit. The credit reference agencies don't record this particular search or show it to other lenders and it won't affect your credit rating. We do this as part of our responsible lending obligations which is within our legitimate interests.

If you've already told Santander that you don't want to receive information on other products or services or to take part in market research Santander will respect your wishes. You can change your preferences at any time by contacting Santander.

Using automated decision making to make decisions about you

We may automatically process your personal information, without human intervention, to evaluate certain personal aspects about you (known as profiling).

In particular, we may analyse or predict (among other things) your economic situation, personal preferences, interests or behaviour. This could mean that automated decisions are made about you using your personal information. For example, we might analyse certain customer demographics, account holdings and account behaviours (such as Direct Debits you have set up on your accounts including those which identify accounts and products such as credit cards and store cards which you hold with other providers/elsewhere) and look at details of transactions relevant to your accounts. We may also analyse events such as the maturity dates of your accounts and opening anniversaries.

In some instances we'll use automated processing and decision making, where relevant, to decide which of our other products or services might be suitable for you, as well as to produce a personalised price for insurance products, to provide an indication of the price prior to an application being made (please note, publicly available information about you and information about you from third party data sources such as, credit reference agencies, will also be used to provide you with an indication of the price). The personalised price would be presented to you in marketing communications and during contacts with Santander that might be suitable. We'll look at the types of accounts that you already have with us, as well as your age, where this is relevant to the product, we think you might be interested in. We'll also conduct behavioural scoring, including by looking at the accounts and products you already have with us and how they are being used, such as account turnover, arrears and other indications of financial difficulties. Where searches are carried out against publicly available data sources and credit reference agencies, these searches may appear on your credit report, but they will not affect your ability to get credit.

You may have a right to certain information about how we make these decisions. You may also have a right to request human intervention and to challenge the decision.

For some insurance products we may use automated decision making to assist the insurer in determining your final insurance premium. The insurer will use an automated underwriting engine to process your personal information and to better assess insurance risk which will generally provide a more accurate price that is relevant to your individual circumstances and needs. The automated underwriting engine will use information including personal information that you provide as well as other information about you held by us, the insurer and other parties. Where the insurer is carrying out any automated decision making it will do so on the basis that is necessary in order for the insurer to enter into the insurance contract with you. You have the right to contest that decision, express your point of view and ask for a human review. Where we carry out any automated decision making for your insurance product, we will ask for your consent during the application process to allow us to do so. You may withdraw your consent at any time.

Further details can be found in the 'Using My Personal Data' booklet.

Criteria used to determine retention periods (whether or not you become a customer)

The following criteria are used to determine data retention periods for your personal data:

- Retention in case of claims. Santander will retain your personal data for as long as you might legally bring claims against us; and
- Retention in accordance with legal and regulatory requirements. Santander will retain your personal data after your account, policy or service has been closed or has otherwise come to an end based on our legal and regulatory requirements.

Your rights are as follows (noting that these rights don't apply in all circumstances and that data portability is only relevant from May 2018):

- The right to be informed about our processing of your personal data;
- The right to have your personal data corrected if it's inaccurate and to have incomplete personal data completed;
- The right to object to processing of your personal data;
- The right to restrict processing of your personal data;
